ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I first want to express my thanks to the following without whom this exhibition could not have taken place: Roger Hankins, Director of the Iris and B.Gerald Cantor Art Gallery; Mark Savolis, Director, Archives Division of Dinand Library; William Shea, Director of the Center for Religion, Ethics, and Culture; Paul E. Sheff, Vice President of Development; Rev. Michael C. McFarland, S.J., President of the College of the Holy Cross; and the committee on Fellowships, Research and Publication of Holy Cross. In particular, I want to express my personal gratitude for the generous support from John V. Deitchman and Cornelius B. Prior.

We are all in debt to the representatives of the lenders: Rev. Philip Endean, S. J., Campion Hall, Oxford; Sr. Christina Kenworthy-Browe, The Bar Convent, York; Marty Barringer and LuLen Walker, Georgetown University; Sally Metzler, formerly The Loyola University Museum of Medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque Art; and James Welu, Worcester Art Museum. I am also grateful to David J. McGonagle, Director of The Catholic University of American Press. It has been a privilege to work with the contributors to the catalogue: A. I. Doyle, University of Durham; Seth Hinden, Harvard University; Naomi Kline, Plymouth State College; Christine Koch, College of the Holy Cross, Amanda Luyster, College of the Holy Cross; Roderick O'Donnell, English Heritage; Simon Roffey, King Alfred's College, Winchester; and Robert E. Scully, S. J., Le Moyne College.

Advice and material support came from many sources: I want to thank Penny Hebgin-Barnes, my colleague in the English Corpus Vitrearum, who first introduced me to Stonyhurst College, and Eamon Duffy, Cambridge University, for his essential work and encouragement. Support also came from: Marilyn Beaven, Sudbury; Aidan Bellenger, Downside Abbey, Bath; Brenda Bolton, St. Albans; Susan Bourne, Curator, Towneley Hall, Burley; Sarah Brown, English Heritage; Peter Davidson, University of Aberdeen; Anne Dillon, Lucy Cavendish College, Cambridge; Martha Driver, Pace University; Gail Gibson, Davidson College; Roberta Gilchrist, The University of Reading; Sr. Gregory Kirkus, I.B.V.M, The Bar Convent; David Knight, Stonyhurst College; Richard Marks, York University; Andrew Nicoll, Columba House, Edinburgh; Virginia Reinburg, Boston College; Joseph Spooner, London; Jane Stevenson, University of Aberdeen; Dennis Taylor, Boston College; R. W. Taylor, Catholic Records Society; and Paul Williamson, Victoria and Albert Museum.

Several of my Holy Cross colleagues made contributions to the catalogue: John Hamilton, Anthony Kuzniewski, S.J., Edward Vodoklys, S.J., Thomas Worcester, S.J., James Kee, and John Cull. I also thank for their support: Nancy Andrews, Lorraine Attreed, Michel Beatty, James Bidwell, William Clark, S.J., Alison Fleming, Alan Karass, Alice Laffey, Todd Lewis, Rick Murphy, David O'Brien, Joanne Pierce, John Reboli, S.J., William Reiser, S.J., Susan Schmidt, Sarah Stanbury, Matthew Schmalz, Helen Whall, and Joanna Ziegler. From deep resources were the contributions of John H. Wilson and Thomas M. C. Lawler with whom I first explored this world in the Interdisciplinary Humanities Sequence, "England, Genesis of a Culture." Students were also vital: for the catalogue Mallory Zeising and Lisa Litterio, and for the exhibition, Mary Cirbus, Kate Curran, Jennifer Geiger, Eliana Hidalgo, Karin Jorgensen, JanetRose Kolodziej, Emily LaClair, and Samantha Morr.

For technical help I am deeply indebted to: Timothy Johnson; Sharon Matys and Thomas Parsons, Graphic Arts; Jesse Anderson and John Buckingham, Audio-Visual Services; Margaret Nelson and Mary Morrisard-Larkin, Educational Technology; Lois Hamill, Archives; Faye Caouette, Visual Arts; and Linda Honan, University of Massachusetts, and to institutions: The Blairs Museum, Aberdeen Scotland; The Library at the College of the Holy Cross; Harvard Libraries: Widener, Fine Arts, and Houghton; and Tufts University Libraries.
