

Stanley Hoffmann

Stanley Hoffmann is a political scientist whose work encompasses international relations, the sociology of war, the culture and politics of France, European history and politics, and American foreign policy.

Hoffmann is the Paul and Catherine Buttenwieser University Professor at Harvard, where he has taught since 1955. He has been the chairman of Harvard's Center for European Studies from its creation in 1969 to 1995.

Professor Hoffmann was born in Vienna in 1928. He lived and studied in France from 1929 to 1955; he has taught at the Institut d'Études Politiques of Paris, from which he graduated, and at the École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales.

At Harvard, he teaches French intellectual and political history, American foreign policy, post-World War II European history, sociology of war, international politics, ethics and world affairs, modern political ideologies, and the development of the modern state.

His publications include Decline or Renewal? France Since the 1930s (1974); Primacy or World Order: American Foreign Policy since the Cold War (1978); Duties Beyond Borders (1981); Janus and Minerva (1986); The European Sisyphus (1995); The Ethics and Politics of Humanitarian Intervention (1997); and World Disorders (1998). He is co-author of The Mitterrand Experiment (1987); The New European Community (1991); After the Cold War (1993); and Gulliver Unbound: America's Imperial Temptation and the War in Iraq (2004). His Tanner lectures of 1993, on the French nation and nationalism, were published in 1994. He is working on a book on ethics and international affairs.

He has also been an incisive and influential commentator on contemporary politics, writing regularly for such periodicals as Daedalus, Foreign Policy, The New York Review of Books, and The New York Times.

 Fritz Thyssen Stiftung
FÜR WIRTSCHAFTS-FÖRDERUNG

The Bologna Center expresses its gratitude to the Fritz Thyssen Stiftung in Köln, Germany, for its support for this event.

Johns Hopkins University SAIS Bologna Center
Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies
Via Belmeloro 11 - 40126 Bologna, ITALY
Tel. +39 051.29.17.811 - Fax +39 051.22.85.05

Director: Kenneth H. Keller
Series Coordinator: Veronica Pye
Transcribed by:
*Rory Jones and Karen Riley (BC 09),
Saskia Van Genugten (Ph.D. Candidate)*

K-15.-172

The Johns Hopkins University

School of Advanced International Studies
Washington, D.C. • Bologna • Nanjing

International Relations Seminar Series

Obstinate or Obsolete? The Future of the Transatlantic Relationship

Europe, the United States, and the Next American President
Conference
Bologna, October 22, 2008

Stanley Hoffmann
Paul and Catherine Buttenwieser University Professor
Harvard University

n. 5 - June 2009

The Bologna Center

The Johns Hopkins University

The Bologna Center

SEMINAR SERIES OCCASIONAL PAPERS

Papers in this series often constitute works-in-progress, and are intended for comment and discussion. Inclusion in the Occasional Paper series does not preclude publication elsewhere.

SPECIAL LECTURES SERIES

1. Susanna Agnelli
The Mediterranean and the Future of Europe, November 1995
2. Richard von Weizsäcker
Ostpolitik in Cold War Europe, November 1996
3. Dieter Oberndörfer
Germany's Liberal Democracy in the Making-The Challenge of Identity, November 1996
4. Jacques Santer
The European Union's External Relations in the 21st Century: Political Dwarf or World Actor?, April 1998
5. Marjorie Mowlam
The Stepping Stones to Peace: the Peace Process in Ireland, November 1998
6. Richard Holbrooke
Challenges to Diplomatic Leadership in the Third Millennium, May 2000
7. Franz Vranitzky
European Politics on the Threshold of the New Millennium, October 2000
8. Marco Biagi, Robert Leonardi, Gianfranco Pasquino
Ricordo del Prof. Giuseppe Federico Mancini, March 2001
9. Miguel Nadal Segalà
Spanish Foreign Policy on the Threshold of Globalization, October 2001

10. Matti Vuoria
The Challenges of the EU: Is There a Balance Between Declarations and Delivery?, April 2003
11. Robert Evans, Antonio Fazio, Omero Papi, Giancarlo Pellacani, Tiziano Treu, Stefano Liebman, Giorgio Basevi, Michele Tiraboschi, Stefano Zamagni
Marco Biagi: L'uomo e L'opera. A Round Table held in Bologna, 20 February 2003, May 2003
12. Klaus Kinkel
Quo Vadis Europe?, January 2005
13. Richard von Weizsäcker
Europe on its Way to a Political Union?, June 2007
14. Otto Schily MdB
Inside the EU: Intelligence Sharing and Police Co-operation, June 2008

EUROPEAN STUDIES SEMINAR SERIES

1. Patrick McCarthy
Between Europe and Exclusion: The French Presidential Elections of 1995, January 1996
2. Erik Jones and Kathleen McNamara
Germany's Monetary Role in Europe, April 1996
3. D.W. Ellwood
Anti-Americanism in Western Europe: a Comparative Perspective, April 1999
4. Patrick McCarthy
The Changing Political Language of Northern Ireland, November 1999

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS SEMINAR SERIES

1. R. Craig Nation
Power Politics in the Modern Age: The European State System, 1648-1789, May 1996
2. Mary Ellen O'Connell
The Application of International Law to the Contemporary Security Agenda, October 1997

3. Sergio Romano
L'America dopo l'Iraq, February 2007
4. Shlomo Ben-Ami
The Iranian Threat: Prelude to Doomsday or an Opportunity for a Middle East Peace?,
June 2008
5. Stanley Hoffmann
Obstinate or Obsolete? The Future of the Transatlantic Relationship, July 2009

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS SEMINAR SERIES

1. Stefano Zamagni
Economics and Philosophy: A Plea for an Expansion of Economic Discourse,
February 1996
2. Giorgio Basevi
Keeping Anchored to the European Monetary Union:
A Radical Option for A Laggard Country, April 1996

ITALIAN STUDIES SEMINAR SERIES

1. Gianfranco Pasquino
The Impact of Europe on Italian Institutions, June 2000
2. Antonio Puri Purini
Integrazione Europea: un progetto in attesa di compimento, May 2004
3. Gianfranco Pasquino
THE ROBERT AND MARIA EVANS INAUGURAL LECTURE IN ITALIAN STUDIES
Populism and Democracy, April 2005